

Notification of Planned Power Interruption Claim Form

Horizon Power is committed to keeping its customers informed of its schedule for essential maintenance work at power stations and on the distribution network, particularly in cases where the power must be turned off for safety.

If for any reason, Horizon Power fails to provide a customer with three days notification of a planned power interruption, you may be eligible to claim a $20 payment.

The following information will help you decide if you may qualify for a payment.

Who is eligible to receive a payment?

The payment is available to electricity account holders in Western Australia that consume less than 50 MWh* of electricity per year (this equates to electricity bills less than $8,000 per year). You can check your average daily consumption in “units” by looking at the front of your electricity bill - 50 MWh is approximately 137 units of consumption per day over the year. The under-50 MWh threshold includes most houses and small businesses.

Am I eligible for a $20 payment under this scheme?

You may be eligible for a payment if:

- Horizon Power did not provide you with at least three days’ notice when planned work is due to be carried out. This notice may be via letter, notification card, telephone call, newspaper or radio advertising.
- The interruption was not caused by or attributable to you or equipment under your control.
- The interruption is not a result of an emergency action taken by an authority such as the police or fire services.
- You did not request the interruption to occur.
- You have not previously been paid for the same interruption at the same address.

When do I submit a claim form?

All claims must be submitted within 60 days of the interruption date. Claims for interruptions older than 60 days will not be eligible for payment.

How do I make a claim?

Customers must complete the details on the claim form and return it to:

If my application is successful, how long will it be until I receive payment?

How will I know if my claim is unsuccessful?

Horizon Power will write to you within 30 days of receiving your claim form.
